Our Mission

- » Achieve excellence in providing and supporting the learning and reserach needs of Atlanta University Center member institutions.
- » Provide the highest level of service to Woodruff Library users including undergraduate and graduate, faculty and other members of the community.
- » Establish an environment of high expectation, high preromacnce and continuous improvement for staff and management.

Woodruff Library is committed to your academic success:

We focus our collection building on material that supports the curriculum of the member institutions. We provide ongoing orientation to the library's resources and services. Finally, we provide both individual and group instruction to help learners negotiate the complicated information environment.

Woodruff Library provides you access to rare and specialized material:

Through our Archives and Special Collections we give students, faculty and community a way to view and explore primary resources that document the African American experience. Soon many of these images and manuscripts will be available through the web.

Woodruff Library is part of your learning community:

By being centrally located among the four member institutions and providing collaborate study spaces in the library Woodruff Library is more than a place t find information. It can also be the place where you create presentations, projects and reports with your classmates.

Woodruff Library is always with you when you need it:

Whether you are in your dorm room, visiting home or traveling abroad Woodruff Library databases which include full text articles and access to images are available online. If you need help with these resources reference
